Work permit arrangements

This section explains the eligibility requirements of the work permit arrangements for Bulgarian and Romanian nationals. Employers wishing to employ migrants from non-EEA countries can no longer apply for work permits.

Business and Commercial work permit arrangements

This page explains what a Business and Commercial work permit is, and if you are an employer how you can apply for one.

This category was closed on 27 November 2008 for applicants from non-EEA countries. The Business and Commercial arrangements allow employers in the United Kingdom to employ people from Bulgaria and Romania to fill a vacancy that might otherwise be filled by a resident worker.

A Business and Commercial work permit will be issued for a maximum of five years.

You can make a Business and Commercial work permit application if:

you are an employer based in the United Kingdom; and you can employ an employee and have a genuine vacancy for an employee in the United Kingdom; and you are responsible for the post and the delivery of any project or piece of work; and the gross pay and conditions are what you would give a resident worker and meet the national minimum wage; and the employment meets the United Kingdom legislation and you have ensured that you and your employee have obtained any necessary registration or licensing; and the person is suitably qualified or experienced enough to do the job; and there are no suitably qualified or experienced resident workers available.

If the potential employee owns a large share of the company this may affect your application for a work permit.

To qualify for a Business and Commercial work permit the post you want to fill must require the following qualifications:

a United Kingdom degree level qualification; or a higher national diploma (HND) level qualification, which is relevant to the post on offer; or a HND level qualification, which is not relevant to the post on offer, plus one year of relevant full-time work experience at national/Scottish vocational qualification (N/SVQ) level three or above;

Or the job must need the following skills:

three years full-time experience of using specialist skills gained through doing the type of job for which the permit is needed. This should be at N/SVQ level three or above.

You can also apply under the Business and Commercial arrangements if your post is included in the shortage occupations list.

You can download this list from the right side of this page.

For further information on the skills criteria for the Business and Commercial work permit arrangements you can download the Business and Commercial guidance from the right hand side of this page.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Can the Bulgarian and Romanian national work while the application is being processed, if they are already living in the United Kingdom?

Close No, they must apply for and obtain permission to work using the work permit before they can start work.

To find out how to apply for a work permit under the Business and Commercial arrangements see the Applying page.

The Training and Work Experience Scheme (TWES) work permit arrangements

This page explains what a Training and Work Experience Scheme (TWES) work permit is and how you can apply for one.

The TWES is to enable people to gain skills and experience through work-based learning which they can then use back in their own country. We approve TWES permits on the understanding that the person intends to leave the United Kingdom at the end of the agreed period to use their new skills and experience. It is important to note that a Bulgarian and Romanian national who is subject to worker authorisation and who holds a TWES permit will not be allowed to transfer to work permit employment.

We issue TWES permits if a person needs to do:

work-based training for a professional or specialist qualification; or a period of work experience.

If a person will be filling a post which would otherwise be done by a resident worker, then you will need to apply under the Business and Commercial arrangements.

You can make a TWES application if:

you are an employer based in the United Kingdom; and you can employ an employee and have a genuine vacancy for an employee in the United Kingdom; and you are responsible for the post and the delivery of any project or piece of work; and the gross pay and conditions are what you would give a resident worker doing similar training or work experience and meet the national minimum wage; and

the employment meets the United Kingdom legislation and you have ensured that you and your employee have obtained any necessary registration or licensing; and the post is additional to your normal staffing requirements; and the person has not had a TWES permit previously; and the person is going to be doing work experience or training for minimum of 30 hours per week; and the entry level to qualify for the training or work experience is at national/Scottish vocational qualification (N/SVQ) level three or equivalent; and the person has the suitable skills, qualifications and/or experience; and the person speaks English to a level where they will be able to understand what they are being taught; and our company and the person doing the managing and training should be able to do so properly.

All training should be completed in the shortest possible time and you must inform us when the individual has finished.

The individual will be allowed two attempts (three if we think there are exceptional circumstances) to take their exams and we only issue TWES permits for a person to achieve a single qualification only.

Medical Training Initiative (MTI)

This category is appropriate for overseas post-graduate medical specialists who are training in the United Kingdom, normally with the National Health Service (NHS). It covers all schemes and arrangements sponsored or administered by the medical royal colleges.

Participation in the MTI is not intended to lead to settlement in the United Kingdom. MTI permits will be granted for the period of training to a maximum period of 24 months.

To find out further information about the Medical Training Initiative and on the different types of Training and Work Experience Scheme criteria, you must read the TWES guidance notes. This guidance can be downloaded from the right side of this page.

For information on how to apply for a work permit under the TWES arrangements see the Applying page.

Sports and Entertainments

These pages explain what the Sports and Entertainments work permits are and if you are an employer how you can apply for one.

The sportspeople and entertainers arrangements enable employers to recruit current international performers of the highest standard, who are able to make a significant contribution to entertainment or sport in this country.

You can make a Sport and Entertainments work permit application if you are a United Kingdom based employer and you need to employ a person to work here. In the entertainment industry, the person's agent may be the employer.

We only issue work permits for sportspeople and entertainers who are recognised sportspeople, entertainers, cultural artists and some technical/support people, if you are unable to employ a resident worker.

To find out the criteria for each Sports and Entertainments category you should see the Section R of the codes of practice which you can download from the right hand side of this page.

For information on how to apply for a work permit under the Sports and Entertainments arrangements see the applying page.

Student Internships

This page explains the criteria of the Student Internship work permit arrangements.

The Student Internship arrangements allow students from Bulgaria and Romania, studying first or higher degree courses overseas to undertake an internship with an employer in this country. A student will only be given permission for one internship with an employer and approval will be given for a maximum of three months.

Student Internship applications are made against the following criteria:

there is a United Kingdom based employer; and the individual is to be an employee of the United Kingdom based employer; and the employer has a significant trading presence in the United Kingdom and in another country or countries; and the employer is responsible for the post; and the gross pay and conditions of employment should reflect the normal trainee rates applicable to the profession or sector in which the internship is offered; and the employment complies with United Kingdom legislation and any requirements for registration or licensing necessary for the employment for which the permit is being sought; and the internship should be at level 3 or above at national/Scottish vocational qualification (N/SVQ) and the person must be a student at a college or university overseas; and the employer should be considering recruiting the student, normally as a trainee, following completion of their course. To find out further information about Student Internships, please refer to the Student Internship employer guidance notes which can be downloaded from the right side of this page. For information on how to make a Student Internship work permit application, please refer to the Applying page.

Sectors Based Scheme (SBS)

The SBS arrangements allow employers based in the United Kingdom to recruit low skilled workers from Bulgaria and Romania to vacancies in the food manufacturing sector that cannot be filled by resident workers.

General Agreement on Trade in Services

This page explains how Bulgarian and Romanian nationals can work in the United Kingdom under the General Agreement on Trade in Services (GATS) work permit arrangements.

The GATS arrangements are for Bulgarians and Romanians whose employer does not have a commercial presence in the European Union. The arrangements enable these workers to work in the United Kingdom on a service contract awarded to their employer by an organisation based in this country.

GATS applications are made against the following criteria:

the service contract must not exceed a period of three calendar months;

the person will not be permitted to work in this country under this agreement for more than three calendar months in any 12-month period;

the person must have the appropriate qualifications and experience;

the person should have spent 12 months in employment with the employer the agreement does not extend to self-employed individuals, or to employment agencies or similar organisations that do not formally employ workers but simply supply or hire them out; and the contract must have been awarded through an open tendering procedure or any other procedure that guarantees the genuine nature of the contract.

Additionally, the service provided under the service contract must be in one of these sectors:

legal services

accountancy services

book-keeping services

taxation advisory services architectural services, urban planning and landscape architectural services engineering services integrated engineering services

advertising

management consulting services services relating to management consulting technical testing and analysis services translation services

site investigation services

For more information about GATS, you should read the GATS employer guidance notes, which you can download from the right side of this page. The GATSA notes are for employers who have no trading presence in the UK, while the GATSB notes are for UK contractors who have awarded a contract to a service supplier from outside the European Union.

For more information about how to make a GATS application, please refer to the Applying page.

How do I apply for a work permit?

Employers wishing to employ migrants from non-EEA countries can no longer apply for work permits. See How I sponsor a migrant for more information about recruiting workers from outside the EEA.

Work permit arrangements will continue for employers wishing to recruit Bulgarian and Romanian nationals.

Some categories of work permit arrangements have different application forms.

The information in this section provides an overview of the work permit arrangements. The work permit guidance notes provide more details of the work permit arrangements. If you are unable to find the information you need on these pages you should read the guidance notes for the arrangements you are interested in. Anyone intending to make a work permit application must read the appropriate guidance notes before making an application. You can download the application forms and guidance notes from the right side of this page.

Which form do I require?

Can I extend my work permit?

Bulgarian and Romanian nationals do not need to seek an extension to their initial approval under the work permit arrangements. Once a Bulgarian or Romanian national has been given permission to work under the work permit arrangements, and has obtained an accession worker card, the card will be valid as long as the Bulgarian or Romanian worker remains in the employment for which the card has been issued.

A Bulgarian or Romanian national who has been working with permission and without interruption in the United Kingdom for 12 months may apply for a registration certificate confirming their unrestricted right to access the United Kingdom labour market. For information on how to do this they should see the Applying section.

Change of employment applications

This page explains change of employment applications. This guidance does not apply to General Agreement on Trade in Services (GATS) and Student Internships.

You will need to get permission from the UK Border Agency if:

you would like to employ a person who already has a work permit for a job, training, or work experience with another employer; or you want an existing employee to change posts within your organisation; or the person has a change to the duties and conditions of work from those on the previous work permit application.

If a person is to continue training or a work experience programme which we have already approved, they will need to carry on the training or work experience programme from the stage they had already reached with their previous employer. We will approve only for the balance of the period agreed in the original application. You do not need to provide evidence of a recruitment search provided we receive your application either before the person leaves their current employment or within 28 days of the persons last day of work with their previous employer. They must be doing the same sort of work and you must wait for our permission before they can start working for you. For change of employment applications you should use the following forms:

What if the person does not take up the post or the employment ends prematurely?

This page explains what you should do if the employee we issued a work permit for does not take up the post or the employment ends prematurely.

It is important that you notify us at once if the person does not take up the post or if the employment of a work permit holder ends prematurely, whether the employee leaves voluntarily or is made redundant.

We should also be informed if your company ceases to trade while you still have work permit holders in your employment. You should inform us by completing the 'Notification of Premature End of Employment' form. This form can be downloaded from the right side of this page.

If possible, you should also return the work permit.

The completed form should be sent to:

Bulgarians and Romanians already working in the UK at 1 January 2007

Employees

The basic rule in the UK is that anyone who comes to work in the UK must register for a National Insurance number and pay Class 1 contributions.

Prior to 1 January 2007, most Bulgarians and Romanians working in the UK were subject to UK National Insurance. Some Romanians and Bulgarians were able to qualify to be exempt for up to 52 weeks under special rules that apply to certain people who do not normally live or work here and meet certain conditions:

National Insurance for people coming to the UK

When you come to work in the UK you have to register for a National Insurance number and immediately start paying National Insurance contributions in the UK on the same basis as other people who normally live and work here.

Coming to the UK from European Economic Area Countries

There are special rules if you are coming to the UK from:

Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Gibraltar, Greece, Iceland, Italy Liechtenstein, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Republic of Ireland, Spain, Sweden, Cyprus, Czech Republic, Estonia, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Malta, Poland, Slovakia and Slovenia. Switzerland is not in the EEA but applies most of the same rules.

From 1 January 2007 Romania and Bulgaria join.

If you come to the UK with a certificate E101 or E102 from one of these countries showing that you are exempt under the special rules, you will be exempt from National Insurance until the certificate expires.

These certificates are most commonly issued where a person works in one country and then is sent by their foreign employer to work in the UK for a time.

If you are in business for yourself in your home country and you are self-employed in the UK, you may be able to qualify for an E101 or E102.

The country where you are normally in business will advise you whether you can be issued with an E101 or E102.

European Economic Area rules mean that if you do not hold an E101 or E102 you will be required to register for a National Insurance number and pay National Insurance contributions on the same basis as a person who normally lives and works here.

If you are employed by a UK employer or are attached or seconded to a host business or client business in the UK, that business will operate National Insurance by deducting Class 1 employee's National Insurance from your pay.

How much National Insurance Contributions must I pay on my earnings?

National Insurance Contributions are calculated as a percentage of your gross pay. The exact amount payable depends on whether or not you are contracted-out of the State Second Pension. There are also fixed earnings thresholds and limits which are used to calculate liability.

When do I start paying National Insurance Contributions?

You must pay Class 1 National Insurance Contributions if:

you work as an employed earner (employee) in the UK, you are 16 or over and under State Pension age (currently 60 for women, 65 for men), and your earnings exceed a prescribed minimum level, known as the Earnings Threshold (ET).

There is no payment of Class 1 National Insurance Contributions on earnings up to the ET. However, once earnings reach the Lower Earnings Limit (LEL), National Insurance Contributions will be treated as having been paid on earnings from the LEL up to and including the ET. This protects the benefit entitlement position of lower earners.

If I become sick – does my employer continue to deduct National Insurance Contributions?

Yes. If your gross pay, including any statutory or other sick pay is above the ET, National Insurance Contributions are due.

What happens if I have more than one job – do both employers have to deduct National Insurance Contributions?

Yes. If you have more than one job with different employers, each employer has to deduct National Insurance Contributions if your gross pay with both or either of them is above the ET.

If you have more than one job with the same employer, your earnings from them may be added together for National Insurance Contributions purposes. If your total gross pay is above the ET, then your employer has to deduct National Insurance Contributions.

You may be able to defer some of your contribution liability if your earnings from separate employment's exceed the Upper Earnings Limit. This may avoid you paying too much National Insurance and will remove the need for a refund.

If I have paid too much National Insurance Contributions, how do I claim a refund?

Apply to:-

HM Revenue & Customs
National Insurance Contributions Office
Refunds Group
Benton Park View
Newcastle upon Tyne
NE98 1ZZ

Tell them why you think you have paid too much and enclose any evidence to support your claim, e.g. pay slips and P60s.

What is the difference between Primary and Secondary Class 1 contributions?

The employee pays primary contributions.

The employer pays secondary contributions.

Both are collected by the employer and paid to HM Revenue & Customs via the PAYE system.

What are reduced rate contributions?

Married women were permitted to pay reduced rate contributions on their earnings. They could continue to pay reduced rate contributions if they were widowed.

These contributions do not count towards benefits and do not qualify for a retirement pension.

This option was withdrawn in 1977. However, women who were already paying reduced rate contributions could opt to continue paying them.

How do I change personal details?

Please write to us at:

Self Employed

There are some limited exemptions from National Insurance that operate for certain employees and self employed people coming to live and work temporarily in the UK.

Class 2 National Insurance contributions Frequently Asked Questions

Can I cancel my Small Earnings Exception Certificate and start paying Class 2 National Insurance contributions?

Yes. Simply complete the reverse of the Certificate and return it to:

HM Revenue & Customs
National Insurance Contributions Office
Self Employment Services
Longbenton
Newcastle upon Tyne
NE98 1ZZ

You can also pay Class 2 National Insurance contributions on a voluntary basis without cancelling your certificate. Call the Self-Employment Services (SES) Call Centre on 08459 154655.

Do I stop paying if I don't make a profit, go sick or go on holiday?

If you are not making a profit you must continue to pay Class 2 National Insurance contributions until the end of the contribution year and then apply for a refund of those National Insurance contributions. A refund could result in a non-qualifying year for benefit. What is a qualifying year? The amount of basic State Pension you will receive when you reach

State Pension age depends on the number of years you have paid, or been treated as paying, National Insurance contributions. These are called 'qualifying years'. Sometimes you can be credited with National Insurance contributions when you are unable to do paid work.

If you believe that your profits for the following year will be low or NIL, you can apply for Small Earnings Exception (SEE) by using the attached form CF10 (PDF 952K).

You do not have to pay Class 2 National Insurance contributions for any complete week of illness (Sunday to Saturday) But you can apply for Incapacity Credits.

You are still liable to pay Class 2 National Insurance contributions when you are on holiday.

I am self-employed. What National Insurance contributions do I pay?
You must pay Class 2 National Insurance contributions current rates unless you are over Retirement Age (60 for women, 65 for men) you are a married woman or widow who holds a valid Married Women's Reduced Rate Election certificate. (Withdrawn in 1977 for new claimants) you have applied for and been given a Certificate of Small Earnings Exception for the period concerned

You can pay your Class 2 contributions by Direct Debit every month

In addition you may be asked to pay Class 4 contributions, if your profits are high enough. This is payable together with tax as part of your annual self assessment.

Contact 0845 915 4655 for further information.

Top

I am self-employed. How do I pay my NI contributions?
You can pay your Class 2 contributions current rates by Direct Debit every month

In addition you may be asked to pay Class 4 contributions, if your profits are high enough. This is payable together with tax as part of your annual self-assessment.

Contact 0845 915 4655 for further information.

Is there a limit to the amount of Class 2 National Insurance contributions I will pay in one year?
Yes. There is a limit set on all classes of National Insurance contributions for each year. This is the 'Annual Maximum'.

However, as Class 2 National Insurance contributions are paid at a flat rate, if you are only self-employed it is impossible for you to exceed the Class 2 annual maximum.

Is there any scope not to pay?
Subject to certain specific exceptions, you are liable to pay Class 2 National Insurance contributions: it is not optional. If you are liable to pay, failure to do so could result in legal action being taken to recover those unpaid National Insurance contributions.

What help is available if I get confused or can't understand the form?
You can call the Self-Employment Services (SES) Call Centre on 0845 915 4655.

What is the current rate of Class 2 National Insurance contributions?
This link will give you information on the current National Insurance contributions rates.

Top

When must I start paying National Insurance contributions?
You should notify us of your self-employment and arrange to pay Class 2 National Insurance contributions as soon as you start self-employment.

Failure to do so could mean that you will be liable to a penalty of £100 and will have to pay National Insurance contributions at a higher rate. There is also a possibility you could lose entitlement to some state benefits.

Note: The Contribution week runs from Sunday to Saturday. If you start self-employment on any day of the week apart from a Sunday your liability will commence on the previous Sunday

Example: If you started on Sunday 26/02/06, liability starts from 26/02/06
If you started self-employment on Saturday 04/03/06, liability also starts from 26/02/06.

Why has the rate gone down in recent years?

The rate was reduced so that more self-employed people with low earnings will be able to gain or improve their entitlement to the State Retirement Pension and certain other benefits.

Top

Will anyone check I've operated the system properly? What if I make a mistake?

Yes. If you under or overpay you will be notified.

The method of notification will depend on how you make your payments.

If you pay by quarterly bill, your next bill will be automatically adjusted.

If you pay by Direct Debit the only time that we are likely to contact you is if the Direct Debit ceases unexpectedly - Self-Employment Services Customer Account Section will contact you.

I am thinking of working for myself, what do I do?

You can call the Self Employed Contact Centre on 08459 154 515 who will give you helpful information, issue you with a starting up in business guide and register your self-employment if you do decide to become self-employed.

Is there a time limit for registering as self-employed?

There is no time limit to register. However, if you do not register within three months from the end of the month in which you first started your business, you will receive a penalty of £100 for late notification.

Top

I'm self-employed, is there any face to face help available to me?

Yes, you can attend a workshop with our Business Support Team who can help and give you practical advice on record keeping, National Insurance and Self-Assessment.

I am taking on my first employee, what do I do?

You should contact the Employers help line on 0845 714 3143. They will send you an information pack and give you advice on becoming an employer.

I am unsure whether I am employed or self-employed, can you help me?

You can now access the Employment Status Indicator toolkit to help with your status.

I am starting work as a sub-contractor, how do I get a registration card?

You should go in person to any HMRC Enquiry Centre and fill in an application form. You should take two forms of identification, one of, which must show your current address and the other should preferably show your photograph. For example a current driving license, passport, utility bill or a credit card statement dated within the last three months. You must also take a passport size photograph.

How do I register as a contractor & operate Construction Industry Scheme (CIS)?

To register you should contact the New Enterprise Support Initiative (NESI) on 0845 60 70 143. They will notify your tax office and issue you with a new contractor pack, which will include a supply of stationery you will need, as well as some useful guidance.

Top

How do I pay Class 4 National Insurance contributions?

Class 4 National Insurance contributions are paid through Self-Assessment (SA) with your annual tax bill.

Why do I pay National Insurance contributions?

You are legally bound to pay Class 2 National Insurance contributions if you are Self-employed, regardless of any benefit you may claim. They help you to qualify for certain benefits including basic state pension, incapacity, bereavement and maternity benefits.

I have completed two Direct Debit mandates. Will two payments be taken from my bank account?

Documente ptr National Insurance Number , prescurtat NIN

What is a National Insurance number?

A National Insurance number is a personal identification number that is used: to record a person's National Insurance contributions and credited contributions when you claim social security benefits

You should only have one National Insurance number in your lifetime and it must only be used by you. There are circumstances when, by law, you must apply for a National Insurance number.

Back to top

When and where should I apply for a National Insurance number?

You should apply for a national Insurance number if:

you are making a claim for benefit, or your partner is claiming benefit for you.

You should apply through your local Social Security or Jobs & Benefits office. You can find details of the nearest office in the phone book under Government.

You should also apply for a National Insurance number if:

you have started, or are about to start, work you are self-employed you want to pay voluntary National Insurance contributions and would benefit from paying them; or you are applying for a Student Loan.

Back to top

Applying for a National Insurance number

There is a process of checks we need to go through with you when you apply for a National Insurance number:

we make sure you need a National Insurance number we make sure that you have not already got a National Insurance number. If you need a National Insurance number and you have not already got one we will write and ask you to come to an interview we use the interview to check that you are who you say you are we also check, where relevant, your right to work in the UK. By doing this we help protect your National Insurance and social security accounts.

Back to top

What is an interview for?

At the interview we will ask you questions about who you are and why you want a National Insurance number. This information, and any official documents you bring with you, can help to prove your identity and where appropriate your right to work. When we give you the date of your interview we will tell you what papers or documents to bring with you. The information or evidence you need to bring can vary from person to person depending on individual circumstances. The interview will usually be with one other person unless, for example, you need an interpreter. Sometimes we may ask for your permission to let us keep your documents for a short time. We will give you a receipt for any documents you let us keep.

Back to top

What types of evidence and information do I need to bring?

Here are some examples of the types of documents and information we need. We cannot accept photocopies.

General documents:

passport

national identity card

birth certificate

marriage or civil partnership certificate

full driving licence provisional driving licence

Home Office documents

two or more passports if you have dual or multi-nationality

student loan documents

student identity card

letter from your college, including course details mortgage or rental agreement residence or naturalisation documents

adoption certificate

Employment documents:

payslips

a work permit

a letter from your employer your contract of employment details of any employment agencies you are registered with certificate of incorporation

memorandum of association

services contract

Documents if you are self-employed:

invoices

letters from your accountant

letters from your clients

a form or letter from H M Revenue and Customs about your self-employment, for example, a bill for your Class 2 National Insurance contributions stock transfer form

Back to top

If you have recently arrived in Northern Ireland after living outside Europe you must bring any travel documents you have. These are documents that give information about your travel between countries and include things like your passport, National Identity card or NASS 35 form (issued to people seeking asylum in the UK).

The leaflet How to prove your identity for benefit purposes (ISSPA) gives more examples of the type of document you may need to bring with you.

If you have any other documents that you think may help prove your identity or your right to work please bring them with you.

If you do not have any documents you must still go to the interview.
You may be able to prove your identity with the information you give at the interview.
For advice about ordering a copy of a birth or marriage certificate visit the General Register Office website.
Back to top

What happens after the interview?

If your application is successful we will give you your National Insurance number in writing as soon as possible after the interview. We will send you a National Insurance number card later. If your application is unsuccessful we will write and tell you.

Remember - a National Insurance number is not proof of identity.

Pe scurt si pe romaneste... iata ce am invatat eu dupa doua luni de UK.... de mentionat eu am venit complet nepregatita. Deci posibilitatile a lucra legal in UK sunt urmatoarele:

1. Self employed:

- poti lucra in orice domeniu doresti atat timp cat gasesti o institutie sau o persoana care sa doreasca o astfel de forma de colaborare;
- primul pas este obtinerea NINO; pentru aceasta mergi la cel mai apropiat job center, folosesti tel de acolo si iti faci o programare specificand domeniul de activitate si daca nu vorbesti engleza faptul ca vei avea nevoie de un translator;
- vei primi pe adresa cu care te inregistrezi un plic cu confirmarea datei interviului si cu ce acte trebuie sa te prezinti la interviu;
- dupa obtinerea NINO vei aplica pt UTR; fara NINO nu se poate aplica pentru UTR;
- daca se alege o firma pentru rezolvarea formalitatilor luati in considerare ca programarea pentru NINO si UTR va costa in jur de 50 de lire, deschiderea unui cont bancar 30 lire iar yellow card 90 de lire.
- pentru anumite categorii detinerea Yellow card nu va fi suficienta; de exemplu pentru medici veterinari va fi nevoie si de obtinerea dreptului de libera practica prin inregistrare la RCVS;

2. Blue card ca dependent

- atunci cand unul dintre sotii detine Yellow card atunci celalalt poate obtine Blue card ca dependent;
- va fi nevoie de certificat de casatorie, acte de identitate, scrisoare de recomandare de la contractorul sotului self employed;
- de asemenea daca apelati la un birou de avocatura procedura va va costa in jur de 90 de lire;

3. HSMP

- pentru cei cu calificare superioara;
- se aplica pe BR2;
- puteti intra pe site la Home Office si sa faceti simularea sa vedeti daca va incadrati la punctaj;
- astfel pentru obtinerea Blue card in acest mod veti avea nevoie de un punctaj de minim 75 de puncte;
- punctele se acorda astfel :
- * pentru absolvent de facultate: 30 puncte
- * pentru master: 35 puncte
- * pentru doctorat: 50 de puncte;
- pentru varsta (cei pana in 27 de ani obtin punctajul cel mai mare); veniturile avute in tara (se face o echivalenta a venitul obtinut in tara, ce depasete 20001 lire pe an va aduce 20 puncte), daca ati mai lucrat inainte in UK - 5 puncte;

4. Student univerritate/NVQ

- puteti sa alegti sa urmati cursurile unei univerritati de aici; pentru contravaloarea taxelor puteti apela la un imprumut special din partea statului;
- cei de la univerritate vor aplica pentru permisul de munca; acesta permis va permite inasa numai 20 de ore saptamanal;
- daca alegi sa urmati un NVQ (health care de ex) aveti grija ca acest curs sa dureze min un an, sa fie recunoscut de Home Office iar cei care organizeaza cursul sa va spuna foarte clar ca puteti aplica pentru permis de munca daca urmati cursul respectiv;
- NVQ costa in medie 1000 de lire;
- de exemplu pentru un NVQ - dental nurse- taxa este de 1000 de lire; 400 se platesc inainte apoi se sustine un test de limba;apoi se plateste diferenta;
- cei de la curs va vor spune in ce conditii si dupa cat timp puteti lucra; de ex mie mi-au spus ca dupa 2 luni de la inceperea cursului si de cele mai multe ori va ajuta in gasirea unui job pe profilul NVQ pe care il urmati, puteti lucra astefi chiar si 40 de ore pe saptamana.

Asta am invatat eu aici... nu e nici pe departe complet dar sper sa ajute!

Yellow Card se emite pentru:

1. student
2. self employed
3. self sufficient

Blue Card se emite pentru:

1. Highly skilled person
2. Dependentii de o persoana stabilita in UK (ILR sau cetatenie britanica, only)
3. Dependentii de o persoana de cetatenie EU (alta decat romana sau bulgara)
4. Exempt:
 - a) dependent de un detinator de Yellow Card
 - b) pe drept propriu, dupa 12 luni de munca si fara o intrerupere mai mare de 30 zile (daca in cele 12 luni ati avut mai mult de un job)

Cei care au 12 luni lucrate LEGAL si fara intrerupere mai mare de 30 zile, pot cere si obtine un Blue Card pe drept propriu, chiar daca in cele 12 luni au beneficiat tot de Blue Card ca dovada de drept de munca.

In aceasta categorie intra:

- I) dependentii de un detinator de Yellow Card (sau care ar fi putut avea un YC dar nu au solicitat),
- II) studentii care au lucrat in timpul studiului,
- III) angajatii care au lucrat legal si au detinut un AWC.

Pentru cei care aplica pentru un Blue Card pe drept propriu este obligatoriu sa faca dovada ca au lucrat legal pe tot parcursul celor 12 luni. Astfel dependentii vor trebui sa dovedeasca (cu documente) ca sponsorul (cel de care au depins) si-a mentinut statutul in baza caruia ei au obtinut Yellow si respectiv Blue Card.

Home Office a introdus un nou sistem pentru programari interviuri. Totul este online. Mai simplu , mai rapid, fara asa ma asteptam 10/15 minute pana reusim sa dam de domniile lor la telefon.:)
Dupa inregistrare se alocheaza un ID number si Transaction ID cu care se poate loga pe site si programa pentru interviu.
Sper sa ajute si aceasta informatie pentru cei care inc anu stiu.
